Dedication to:

Fr. Scott Ness, O.S.A.

Fr. Scott C. Ness, O.S.A. came back to Merrimack College in August of 1996. We can say that he came "back" to Merrimack because he is a graduated member of the class of 1984. Fr. Scott grew up in Methuen, MA and has one twin brother and two older brothers. When Fr. Scott returned to Merrimack in 1996 he started to work in the Campus Ministry Center and worked in directing Merrimaction projects as well as liturgies and music on campus. Fr. Scott's musical talents helped to enhance an already spirit filled group of students who worship here at Merrimack.

In 1999, Fr. Scott changed his office and was able to put another one of his gifts to use.... His gift of relating to people of various cultures. This past year, under Fr. Scott's direction, the Study Abroad program has blossomed into a very popular option of study. Fr. Scott directs the Study Abroad program through the Academic Support Service office and also works with, gives academic advisement to, and shows a real sense of care and concern for our international students on campus.

Fr. Scott has been advisor of the Merrimack College Concert Choir, and the Commuter Council. He has advised M.O.R.E. retreats and Alternative Spring Break Missions. He has been seen at On- Stagers rehearsals and performances playing the piano. He has shared his musical talent at receptions on and of campus, at liturgies in the Collegiate Church of Christ the Teacher, and every once in a while the third floor of Gildea Hall still echoes with the sound of music coming from the Campus Ministry Lounge.

Fr. Scott is a very dedicated member of the Order of St. Augustine and of Merrimack College. He always makes time to say hello in any way that he can. The countless hours that he shares with this college community do not go unnoticed and this dedication is a small token of appreciation for all that he has done and will continue to do for the family that we call Merrimack. We are VERY glad that he came back!

Fr. Joseph L. Farrell, O.S.A.

The Story of The Seal of Merrimack College

It's heraldry deeply symbolic...
Waving line of blue and gold, representing the Merrimack River, Merru-asquam-ack, the place of swift water...our college has already made tremendous strides in becoming a veritable fountainhead of Christian culture and advancement for all those entering its stream of activities.
"A trimount of the field charged with a cross fleurette," a part or the coat of arms of Archbishop Cushing, under whose patronage the College was established, representing trimount, the original appellation of Boston.
A child's voice saying "tolle lege, tolle lege" (take up and read, take up and read) led to the conversion of St. Augustine and the dedication of his life to Christ.
"Per scientiam ad sapientiam," (through knowlege to wisdom,) the ultimate purpose of Merrimack College...only through the valid combination of intellectual and spiritual knowledge of God and the world can we attain the fullness of wisdom. College colors, blue for the fidelity of the Mother of God, and Gold for the wisdom of the true Church form the chromatic basis of the seal of Merrimack College, devoted to Mary under the title of Our Mother of Good Counsel, and under her protection.

Dear Members of the Merrimack Class of 2000:

Congratulations to the first Merrimack College graduating class of the new millennium. I hope as you turn the pages of this yearbook, that you remember your time here at Merrimack as a time of academic challenge, personal growth, and spiritual enrichment.

The new millennium is a time to celebrate the past and look ahead to the future. As a college we have much to celebrate -- our history is rich with Augustinian tradtion and our future looks promising and bright. With new academic initiatives and a changing landscape, we have much to look forward to in the coming years. As a community, we celebrate the many students like yourselves who have left a "footprint" on this campus, making Merriamck a better place for those that follow. And your futures know no boundaries.

I thank you all for your contribution to Merrimack. Whether it was through your involvemnt in various student activities and orgainzations, the lifelong friendships you developed, or the professors whose lives you touched, you have made a difference to this institution. At our 50th Commencement, we bid you best wishes and farewell. But we also welcome you as our newest Alumni. We hope that your relationship with Merrimack is one that will last you a lifetime.

As life's journey takes you to places near and far, keep Merrimack's Augustinian spirit close to your heart. It will guide you along your chosen path and help you live a truly meaningful life. Best wishes for your every success.

Sincerely,

Richard J. Santagati
President

A Small part of Merrimack with

This year, as everyone celebrates the millenium and the college celebrates the 50th graduating class, the staff of The Merrimackan Yearbook celebrates the 50th volume of the yearbook. The Merrimackan Yearbook was established in the spring of 1950 by Fr. Albert Shannon, O.S.A., when he brought together a group of students to design what would become the first yearbook of Merrimack College. The first yearbook was published in 1951 as a tribute of the first graduating class. The staff of the 1951 Merrimackan would set the standards for all subsequent yearbook staffs that follow. It was those individuals who created The Merrimackan, but it would be the students following them who kept it going through good times and bad. While the times have changed and we have watched advisors, editors and staff come and go, each leaving his/her mark on The Merrimackan. Our commitment to bringing you a yearbook that commemorates the years events into one book for the entire Merrimack community to enjoy has remained the same and will continue to remain the same into the next millenium.

Fr. Albert Shannon O.S.A. (Pictured here in 1953)
In the spring of 1950 Fr. Shannon called together a group of students to establish what would be the first yearbook of Merrimack College. The result would be a yearbook called The Merrimackan that was a compilation of the first four years of Merrimack. Fr. Shannon remained advisor of The Merrimackan from 1950 up until 1958.

David Walsh, The Editor-In-Chief of the Merrimackan in 1951. It was through his guidance and leadership that the pictures and articles came together into one book.

A Big History..........

The 1951 Merrimackan Yearbook staff. It was these individuals who set the standards that all other staffs would follow and who started a tradition that has endured for half a century.

This cover was used on the first yearbook in 1951 and remained the cover of The Merrimackan though 1966. This change came about when the college switched from Cooke Publishing Company to William Keller, Inc. The change in the cover was one of many changes made that year due to a new publishing company.

A Look into the early days of

Rita Reidy was the first female Editor-In-Chief of the Merrimackan Yearbook in 1957. Due to the college being founded as an all male commuter school and remaining all males up until 1950, many of the first Editors were males with the exception of two co-editorships that came before Rita.

In the early days of the Merrimackan, the staff would set aside entire sections to highlight the religious events that would occure on campus. This was a reminder to the campus community never to forget the Augustinian heritage under which the collge was founded.

The Merrimackan

The first color photos appeared in the 1967 Merimackan. The photo shown here appeared on the first page of the yearbook. This may have been to to the change of publishers that took place in 1967 which also brought about the change of the traditional cover of the early days.

O'Reilly Hall Renovations

When The Business Administration students came back from the summer off they found several changes had been made to their building. Over the Summer of 1999 they had converted some of the classrooms into what is known as smart classrooms, moved the computer lab from the fourth floor to the third floor and also made it more ergonomically correct, not to mention the major change made on the fourth floor. They had completely renovated the fourth floor to now include all of the faculty offices, and a confrence room. Of all the changes that had been made the most exciting was the addition of the smart classrooms. This new smart classroom included a new projector, white board that the computer could relay on to a new screen, ability for video confrencing, and even a computer to allow students to make their presentations with. But there was one more change, they were now considerd The School of Business and International Commerce, and no longer the Business Administration Division.

Growing up in different worlds
Brought us closer
Who would have known
Separated by four years
We often sided as one
Despite our differences
I often confided in you
My life, a secret to others
You, Know me

Now, your life is yours to live
Twenty-one and free
From the confinements of standard society
You will choose to succeed
It's who you are.

At a young age
you started teaching me
To respect
To trust
To live
I choose a different road
My Life is mine
But you made me who I am
I thank you

Noah

Class Council of 2001

The class of 2001 is a very strong one that has grown over the past academic year towards being united, and its Class Council has worked hard to provide a handful of great events.

We started off the year with a pageant for the men of the College, entitled "Mr. Merrimack." It was a fun night filled with great men, lots of laughs, and resulted in a Mr. Merrimack Calendar to keep the memories of the night alive. Later in the semester, the Class of 2001 co-sponsored the Halloween Bash, which was a huge hit among those who attended. First semester came to an end with a great party called the Holiday Social, when the Juniors and Seniors celebrated the close of the semester and the upcoming holidays.

When second semester arrived, the Class Council of 2001 put on a fabulous Junior Formal, an amazing dance filled with many wonderful people. The final event to wrap up a super Junior year was the Junior/Senior Barbecue in Volpe.

Overall, it was a good year for the Junior Class, and there are definitely high hopes for a successful Senior year!

eMerrimack

It has been a pleasure and honor to help steer eMerrimack on a course to success as it takes its place among Merrimack College's student organizations. However, this venture would not have been successful without the help of several people and departments. I'd like to thank the offices on the Second Floor of Gildea (Student Activities & Student Life). I will not name people because I am bound to forget someone who was a great part in helping eMerrimack develop. Within our organization, I would like to thank the members whose interest made eMerrimack possible. I would also like to thank my E-Board officers for doing their part in getting eMerrimack off the ground. Most importantly, all members of eMerrimack owe a debt of gratitude to our advisor, Mary Noonan (Associate Professor & Chair of the Computer Science Department) for being there every step of the way. Professor Noonan, thank you for everything.

The future looks bright for eMerrimack. I hope that it continues to be that way for it and its members as we enter the 21st Century.

Respectfully,
Javier E. Zapanta; President

Merrimackan Yearbook

The Merrimackan Yearbook was created in the spring of 1950 to establish what would be Merrimack's first yearbook. This would be a reminder to the graduating class of their four years at Merrimack. Over the years the focus of the yearbook has changed from the graduating class to the years events for the entire Merrimack Community to enjoy.

This year as we enter the new Millenium, the Merrimackan Celebrates Volume 50 by "Celebrating the Past and Looking Forward to the Future." We have brought you back not only to the early days of the Merrimackan, but the college as well because this year is such a milestone for everyone. With the new buildings going up all around us to new majors being created, this is a time to look back on where we have come from and where we are going. The goal of the staff this year was to give you a yearbook that celebrates our history and this momentous year in all our lives. We hope as you look through the pages of the 2000 Merrimackan Yearbook, you will see all the hard work and dedication the staff has devoted to give you a yearbook to remember.

This yearbook would not have been possible without the dedication of all the members who have worked with me in putting this yearbook together. The 2000 Merrimackan Staff consists of Jim Greeley, Advisor; Cindy Truesdale, Editor-In-Chief; Angela Kulesza, Management Editor; Sarah Roth, Photography Editor; Lauren Berube, Clubs and Organizations Editor; Emily Canavan, Sports Editor; Kristen Ferraro, Residents and Commuters Editor; Nicholas Zakas, Senior Liason; Pamela Lambert, Katie Sutton, Johanna Kinkaid, and Amanda Weaver.

To the entire staff of the Merrimackan Yearbook, thank you all for your continued dedication. This book would not have been possible without you.

-Cindy Truesdale,
Editor-In-Chief

The OnStagers Dramatic Society

The OnStagers had another great season in 1999-2000! With the Fall play Specator Sport, written by Steven Stuart Baldwin and directed by Jennifer Rodrigue, the OnStagers used a great deal of the membership to shine talent both on and off the stage. Performed over two weekends in November, the OnStagers enjoyed a sell-out crowd at more than three performances. Equally exciting to the success of the play held in the Stevens Auditorium, Spectator Sports's premier, never having been performed on stage before. Overall, Spectator Sport was a huge hit, enjoyed by the college community and beyond.

In the spring, from April 6-9, the OnStagers made their debut in the Rogers Center for the Arts in Guys and Dolls. A fun, fast-pased musical, Guys and Dolls utilized approximately 25 OnStagers on stage and the creative genius of more than 25 off stage. Directed by Paul Goldberg with ingenious musical direction and choreography, Guys and Dolls made for an excellent introduction of the organization into its new "home." Yet again, the talent of the OnStagers shone brightly, leaving its audience clamoring for more.

Sadly, the OnStagers lost a great deal of its extremly gifted membership with the graduation of its beloved Seniors. The outgoing E-Board, made up of Seniors Nate Ward, Meghan MacKay, Jess Burgess, Pam Bombara, and Katherine Profis, bid a fond farewell to the organization, but were more than happy to hand the OnStagers legacy over to another amazing group of E-Board members. Words cannot express the joy, pride, and pleasure that they have experienced as an organization this year, and they certainly look forward to many more amazingly successful years to come. Best of luck to the OnStagers in 2000-2001!

Phi Kappa Theta Fraternity

Throughout this past year the brothers of Phi Kappa Theta have prided themselves in helpin the Merrimack College Community as well as the surrounding communities of the Merrimack Valley and Boston.

Phi Kappa Theta in this past year alone has gone above and beyond themselves in contributing a helping hand anywhere possible. This year we held the Red Cross Blood Drive both first and second semester. Also, PKT held its annual clothing drive to benefit the Salvation Army where we collected over one hundred bags of clothes. The brothers of Phi Kappa Theta teamed up with the sisters of Sigma Phi Omega in the fall to help the community of Boxford in building a playground for their youth. Some of the brothers also visited the Lawrence Housing Authority where they served Thanksgiving dinner to residents. We also visited the Greater Boston Food Bank and the Pin Street Inn in Boston to help out with both serving and labor work. Plans are also in the making to visit the Fidelity House or the Lazarus House.

Although PKT strives to help those around us, we do not forget how to have fun. Some of th brothers contributed their efforts and skills as members of the Orientation Committee. In the fall, the brothers got together for a day at Canobie Lake Park in Salem, NH where we worked and serve lunch for the people that attended the Gillette Company outing and after had some fun in the amusement park. We also had a team in the Volleyball Intramurals. The team did not do as well as we would have liked, but it was fun trying. In October, PKT successfully defended our championship title in the Inter-fraternity Football Bowl. In February, the community of Merrimack was very responsive to our annual Valentine's Day Flower Sale and in the spring the community had the chance to Egg-A-PhiKapp in Gildea Plaza.

The brothers of Phi Kappa Theta would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone in the Merrimack Community that has contributed, supported, and helped with our endeavors throughou the year.

The Respect Life Club is a new organization founded this year. Our sole purpose and goal is o help Merrimack's community celebrate and respect all stages of life, from the womb to the tomb. ur first mission to complete was to represent Merrimack at the annual March For Life in Washing- on D.C. in January. This March protests the famous Supreme Court ruling of Roe vs. Wade, which ade having an abortion legal in the United States. Many nations as well as states are represented very year. As a group of students, we were proud and honored to represent Merrimack at this eaceful gathering celebrating life. We have faith that through this organization, Merrimack will orever be represented in Washingto D.C.

We also, through the guidance of Merri-Corps, have formed a partnership with the Lawrence een Coalition, which is an organization to nurture the teenagers in Lawrence. Through this, we ope to make enough of an influence in these young adult lives to prevent teen pregnancy and rug/alcohol use as well as to promote the importance of education.

For a future program, we would like to work harder to close the generation gaps which has eparated our society. In respecting all stages of life, we plan to bring the elderly of the surrounding ommunity back to campus to spend time with us in our everyday lives as well as us visiting them n a regular basis. We certainly can learn much from them.

This organization has been very lucky in our membership. Advisor Fr. Joseph Farrell, O.S.A., amie Swift (Pres.), Matthew Varakis (V.P.), Cara Kuzmiski (Sec.), and Suzanne DiMack (Treas.), head this rganization. Other members include Jess Burgess, Maura Shaughnessy, Katherine Profis, Mark uelette, Nate Ward, Krissy Nowell, Rachel Eagan, Rachel Piola, Kristen Mahoney, Joel Boutin, Joe educ, Paul Cavanaugh, Angel Dunn, Brian Bell, Kristine Jones, Carol Kennedy, Katie Sullivan, Lisa arrott, Bryan Stone, and Mary Gallant.

Sigma Phi Omega Sorority

Sigma Phi Omega is one of three different sororities found at Merrimack College. We are presently a small group of twenty-two active sisters. Since we are such a small group, we are able to develop very close relationships with one another. By being a member of Sigma Phi Omega, you are not just a sister, more importantly you are a friend. Through friendship and togetherness, the sisters of Sigma Phi Omega are able to learn about each other and from each other, making our college life a more comfortable and exciting experience. Along with friendship and togetherness, we also put significant value on love, support, unity, and experience.

Once you become a sister of Sigma Phi Omega, you are a sister for life, and as our motto states, we will remain "Together in Friendship Forever." Sigma Phi Omega is excited to be working towards becoming a new chapter of the national sorority Zeta Tau Alpha. Until then, as the sorority of Sigma Phi Omega continues to grow, we will proceed in holding th morals and values in which the sorority was founded upon.

Student Association of Sociology

Student Association of Sociology gives any student who is interested in Sociology the opportunity to explore and integrate sociological aspects outside the classroom. We believe this is an important part of our college experience. Through social activities and gatherings we all will have the opportunity to meet new friends, have fun, and learn about others in ways that we may not have without our involvement in S.A.S. Our goal for S.A.S. is to allow each member to gain a significant role of leadership and take on various responsibilities that will contribute to a successful growth for both the individual and the organization here at Merrimack and beyond campus grounds.

Student Government Association

The school year of 1999-2000 was a year of saying goodbye and saying hello. The end of the millenium also brought the end of the Executive Board of Tom O'Grady (Pres.), Alexis Dugan (Vice Pres. ), Meg McGilloway (Sec.), Peri Beltre (Treas.), and James Swift (Member-at-Large); and the passing of the torch to a whole new and young executive board made up of one junior and four sophomores. Others that were leaving their legacy behind were Maura Shaughnessy, Parker Willard, and Rachel Piola. SGA 2000 would like to thank these people for their hard work and leadership for the past four years.

We would also like to thank those who have and will continue to work very hard to make Merrimack a better place. The Freshmen are an energetic, bright group of eight consisting of Meg McFarlin, Shannon Britsch, Tracy Cole, Krista Antonelli, Kelly Butterworth, Rich Mathews, Eric "Wally" Dawson, and last but certainly not least, Robin Williams (no, not the actor).

Mary-Kate Keyes, Rose Angela Airo-Farilla, and Kim Murphy wrap it up for the sophomore representatives. The quiet and mature personalities come from Liz Howarth, Sarah Hevey, Eric Atkinson, Carol Kennedy, Rob Buco, Keith Foisey (commuter) and Jimmy Johnson who represent the Junior Class.

Under the strong leadership of Dan Flynn (Pres.) and all the hard work put in by Cathleen Murphy (Vice Pres.), Jenn Caccavaro (Sec), Beth Pendleton (Treas.), and loud committee calls of Mary Zambuto (Member-at-Large); SGA will continue to grow.

In their first semester, SGA 2000 has supported the initiation of shining stars like the Dance Club and the Pep Band. We have connected with eMerrimack the new computer club, lucked out with the Irish Heritage Organization, and we will never forget the History Club. With open arms we have embraced the beginnings of the Gay-Strait Alliance.

In the second semester, we sit by and anxiously wait for the new Campus Center to be erected. And we will always be keeping an eye out for those who would like to be involved in the efforts of Student Government.

Finally, a great big thank you goes out to our Advisor Maryellen Colliton. Along with being the Associate Dean of Students, every Wednesday night she puts up with our endless chatter and laughter. Mel, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

As always SGA is on the lookout to make sure that Merrimack does not settle for second best, but to continue for the stars. We will never forget you, Mot. Your friend Nad. PEACE!

-The members of the Student Government Association

Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity

"We're Not the Best Because We're the Biggest; We're the Biggest Because We're the Best."

For the past three years Tau Kappa Epsilon has set a standard of excellence at Merrimack College. Wh are we? We believe in being well-rounded individuals. We have been named Fraternity of the Year for the pas three consecutive years. We are the fastest growing fraternity on campus, doubling our size in the last thre semesters. We are R.A.'s. We are President's Ambassadors. We are Peer Academic Liasons. We are Merrimac Program Board members. We are Merrimack OnStagers. We also participate in many intramural sports as we as on the Merrimack Judicial Board.

Although we draw a great deal of pride through our involvement in campus organizations, philanthrop and academics are what drive our chapter. We do exorbitant amounts of philanthropy through programs an organizations such as the Lazarus House, Habitat for Humanity, The Walk for Hunger, Afri-care, Lawrenc Urban Youth Centers, volunteering at the Hennessy Elementary School in Lawrence as well as being heavil involved with the Greater Lawrence YMCA. Aside from these organizations we volunteer annually for th Special Field Games during the summer. While running our annual TKE-in-a-Box, in which we live in a car board box for three days, we raise money for the homeless of Lawrence.

In relation to academics, we consistantly have at least 15% of our active brothers making the Dean's Lis every semester. We maintain these high GPA's through strict Membership Standards, as well as mandator Academic Assistance Programs for those of us who fail to excel in scholastics.

The future for TKE is brighter than ever. The Chapter is growing at an exponential rate as each semeste passes. As our Chapter grows and becomes more diverse, the possibilities, opportunities and benefits of bein a member become endless. This places us in an even greater position to give back to the campus and th community in which we live. We have always considered ourselves the greatest fraternity on campus wit much respect to the other Greek organizations however, now it seems our time has come to also be the largest

-Justin Perry, President

Theta Delta Chi Fraternity

The 1999-2000 school year has been a tremendous one for the brothers of Theta Delta Chi. On February 19, 2000, we finally completed the process of going national, and became he newest charge of Theta Delta Chi Fraternity, the Chi Triton Charge.

The brothers also took the time this year to try and give back something to the commu- ity. We helped the American Diabetes Association with their annual diabetes walk. We also elped the North Andover branch of the Special Olympics with a soccer tournament they eld in the fall.

However, it has not been all work this year for the brothers. There were also the fun imes. Especially the "Golf Cart" in the Merrimack Homecoming parade, and the TDX camp- ng trip. This year has been a real "shocker" for everyone.

Finally, the brothers would like to congratulate all the new brothers who just got in, you re the future of our Franternity. And, also congratulations to all those graduating brothers vho now have to get real jobs. Just as the torch has been passed from AXE to TDX, the new enerations of brothers will keep our beloved Fraternity alive.

-Brendon Sullivan, Corresponding Secretary

Theta Phi Alpha Sorority

Theta Phi Alpha was established at Merrimack College as the first national sorority on September 18, 1993. Our foundation rests in Pride, Trust, and Equality which is the tie that binds alumni, old and new sisters. Our current membership consists of 22 active sisters all o whom are involved in various on-campus organizations such as Student Government, Class Council, Orientation Committee, L.E.A.D., OnStagers, and many others. We also participate in several philanthropies including the Lawrence Youth Center, Bread and Roses, and Alternative Spring Break. Theta Phi Alpha was named Sorority of the Year for 1998-99 and 1999-2000.

Friends may come and go, but sisters are forever. Best of luck to our graduating seniors. We wish you laughter, happiness and love in the future. You will be missed, though you will always be in our hearts and thoughts.

MERRIMACK COLLEGE RECEIVES $2.5 MILLION PLEDGE TO ESTABLISH THE FRANCIS E. GIRARD SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND INTERNATIONAL COMMERCE

Alumnus makes unprecedented gift to College which will be used to enhance and name the School of Business and create third Endowed Chair

Merrimack President Richard J. Santagati recently announced that the College has received a $2.5 million pledge to establish the Francis E. Girard School of Business and International Commerce. Mr. Girard is a 1962 graduate of Merrimack College and Chief Executive Officer of Comverse Network Systems based in Wakefield, Mass., a subsidiary of Comverse Technology, a Standard and Poor's 500 Company and the world's leading supplier of enhanced services platforms to wireless and wireline network operators.

Mr. Girard's pledge to The Campaign for Merrimack will be used for several key initiatives within the College's current Business Division. Among those will be the Francis E. Girard Endowed Chair in International Business; creation of a Technology Auditorium which will be a fully-networked center complete with videoconferencing capability and an endowment for technology upgrades; creation of a Business Teaching Resource Center to strengthen teaching resources and enhance Library offerings; further internationalization of the Business curriculum; enhancements to the technology infrastructure to accommodate the expanded requirements for a variety of technological improvements within O'Reilly Hall; and new faculty development resources.

"The tremendous impact that Mr. Girard's generous gift to Merrimack College will have is just beginning to be realized. With this new resource, Merrimack will easily make the transition to tomorrow's paradigm of a more integrated curriculum and state-of-the-art technology—features often found only in MBA programs—in response to the global explosion of the Internet economy," said Merrimack President Richard J. Santagati. "We are extremely grateful to Mr. Girard for his personal financial commitment to the College but more so for his leadership and vision which will benefit generations of Merrimack students, our faculty and the greater community. We are proud to name our Business Division after such an extraordinary individual."

Francis E. Girard

He previously served as President and CEO of Boston Technology and now serves as Chief Executive Officer of Comverse Network Systems. He is a 1962 graduate of Merrimack College, earning a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. While at Merrimack, Mr. Girard was president of the SBK Fraternity, editor of the College newspaper, and Vice President of Student Government. He is currently a member of the Merrimack College Board of Trustees.

Mr. Girard is the father of three children and resides in Ipswich and Boston, Mass.

Spotlight On.....Fr. Donald Burt, O.S.A.

This semester the Merrimack College community is fortunate to have a visiting Augustinian scholar among our midst. He is Fr. Donald X. Burt, O.S.A. An accomplished author, professor and lecturer, Fr. Burt was also a member of the Merrimack administration in the 1960s and 1970s.

He has published several scholarly articles, 11 books and Fr. Burt expects his twelfth book, "Friendship and Society," to be published sometime this fall. His books generally fall into two categories: popular reflectives on Augustine based upon situations in life; and those that are more technical and deal with Augustine's philosophies. So when does Fr. Burt do his best writing? "Definitely early in the morning," he says. He is also known nationally for his lectures in business ethics and bioethics.

A native of Philadelphia, Fr. Burt has been in the classroom for the last 42 years. He's taught at St. Thomas College in Miami, here at Merrimack, and he recently retired from full-time teaching at Villanova University. He hopes now to be able to concentrate more fully on St. Augustine through his retreat work, writing, and his preaching.

As the Visiting Scholar at the Center for Augustinian Study and Legacy this semester, Fr. Burt will be available to faculty and students for consultation and conversation and he is currently teaching the St. Augustine Seminar offered through the Department of Religious Studies. He also delivered a paper at the Thagaste Symposium held last month and offered an evening of reflection through the College's Alumni office. And at the invitation of Dr. Joseph Kelley, Vice President for Mission Effectiveness and Director of the Center for Augustinian Study and Legacy, Fr. Burt is conducting a three day seminar at St. Augustine's Parish in Andover, where he is residing and saying weekday Masses in addition to Sunday Mass. It's certainly a full schedule.

Fr. Burt entered the Augustinian Order straight out of high school. He was very familiar with the Augustinians because he had two older brothers who had graduated from Villanova. He went on to earn his Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Philosophy from Villanova and earned his Doctorate in philosophy from the Catholic University of America.

When Fr. Burt arrived at Merrimack in the 1960s, he served as Chaplain, Assistant to Fr. McQuade, and he was running the Financial Aid office. "The biggest challenges in those days were finances and recruitment of students," says Fr. Burt. "The school was just so new then." It was during the '60s that the first dormitories were built. Fr. Burt took up residence in the dorms. "In many ways, living with the students in the dormitories was wonderful because it was there that the tightest relationships were formed." There are students from those years that Fr. Burt still keeps in touch with, several of whom ended up working for the Secret Service.

Fr. Burt acknowledges that in many ways the '60s were also a sad time. "Commencement, which is supposed to be a time of celebration, would often be marred by news that a classmate had been killed in Vietnam," says Fr. Burt.

In 1967, Fr. Burt headed back to Villanova to assume the position of Dean of Arts and Sciences and teach philosophy. After a few years at Villanova and then St. Thomas in Miami, Fr. Burt was recruited to come back to Merrimack as Dean of Humanities. Later he became Academic Vice President, a position he held until 1980.

"It's my hope that while I am here at Merrimack I can get the Augustinian view of the world across to as many people as possible. "What Augustine has to say is just as relevant now as it was back then," says Fr. Burt. "I try to bring Augustine into everything I do." He is glad for the opportunity to be back on campus and to see many of his old friends. "I taught a good number of the alumni," says Fr. Burt, "many of whom are now grandparents." He also acknowledges that the College's size makes for a nice "homey" atmosphere. "There's more of chance to make individual connections here as opposed to a larger school," says Fr. Burt. And he recalls the campus landscape in those early years — there was only one tree on the far side of O'Reilly Hall. "Things are much different now —the landscape is beautiful and it's clear that the College is truly prospering."

MERRIMACK STUDENTS TO TAKE PART IN PILGRIMAGE 2000

This past Saturday, the Archdiocese of Boston kicked off "Pilgrimage 2000," a seven-month celebration of faith aimed at Catholics ages 14-40, at Foxboro Stadium. As part of Homecoming Weekend, Merrimack College sent a group of 50 students to the celebration of faith. Pilgrimage 2000, the focus of the archdiocese's millennium celebration, is a response to a call by Pope John Paul II for the church to reach out to young people. The event included a "Jars of Clay" concert and the celebration of Mass by Bernard Cardinal Law, Archbishop of Boston.

From October to April, Merrimack students will meet in small groups to discuss their faith. The groups will meet 14 times, or twice a month for one hour and follow scripture-based lessons that will examine questions of faith and religion as they pertain to young adults. Pilgrimage 2000 is scheduled to end on April 29, 2000 with a giant rally and Mass at Fenway Park.

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTS NEW MEMBERS

The Merrimack College Chapter of Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Honor Society, inducted nine new associate members this past spring. Dr. Aubrey Thomas, president, and Dr. Janine LeBlanc-Straceski, vice president, welcomed these students: Maria Coviello, Matthew Desmond, Kari Mansour, Gina Monteforte, Giao Nguen, Sandra Pavao, Edmund Scarfo, Heidi Tyrell and Quynh Vo. The event was co-sponsored by the Department of Biology. All of the new inductees are biology, biochemistry, health science and sports medicine majors.

Merrimack Classroom Connects with Japanese Students

Dr. Raymond Shaw, Associate Professor of Psychology, has teamed up with Cindy Lahar, Professor of Psychology, Faculty of Comparative Culture, at Miyazaki International College, Miyazaki, Japan, in teaching a course on the Psychology of Aging. The two professors are both teaching this course in their respective colleges, and have created a web-based bulletin board where their students can interact and discuss the course material and related issues via posted messages or chat rooms.

During the course of the semester, the students will be discussing the concept of Psychological Age and working on a questionnaire to assess it. Psychological Age refers to a person's psychological capacity to deal with new situations. Abilities that are relevant to Psychological Age are things like memory, intellectual capacity, motivation level, and other aspects of self-concept. While these are known to be important in the American cultural understanding of aging, it is unclear what factors are important in Japanese culture. The students will explore these issues in conversations with each other, and then will collaborate on testing their ideas with real participants in an informal study.

The students in Dr. Shaw's class at Merrimack also include six older adults who were invited to attend through the Andover Senior Center. These non-traditional students will also participate in the discussions with the Japanese students. The older adult participants in the course bring additional insight to issues facing older adults than what comes from Dr. Shaw's traditional scholarly sources, and also expose the young adult, traditional students to a greater variety of older adults than they might otherwise encounter.

This is the second year that Dr. Shaw has had older adults in the course. Last year's group taught Dr. Shaw and his younger students that older adults prefer not to be called "senior citizens," however, this year's group indicated that they didn't object to that term, and some preferred it over last year's favorite "older adults." Both groups indicated that "elderly" was not preferred. Another useful object lesson for the professor and his students was observing first-hand that older adults often lead active, interesting lives. They are active, eager participants in the course, and often miss class because of the many demands on their time, defying the stereotype of older adults being lonely, depressed and inactive.

WARRIOR NEWS

Merrimack's Lady Warriors welcome back Ann McInerney of Newton, Mass., former Merrimack College assistant coach for women's basketball and softball, as the new Head Coach for women's basketball, becoming the fifth head coach to lead the Lady Warrior basketball program.

"After completing a thorough nationwide search, Ann emerged as the unanimous choice, bringing with her experience as a former head coach and a former assistant coach at two Northeast-10 member institutions," said DeGregorio.

McInerney, a graduate of Assumption College, is the all-time leading scorer in Assumptions women's basketball program and was voted the NE-10 women's basketball Player of the Year in 1989.

After serving as assistant coach from 1989-90 at Nichols College, McInerney was promoted to head coach and served in that capacity from 1990-92. In 1992, the Worcester, Mass. native joined the Lady Warriors as assistant coach for women's basketball and softball, serving in that capacity until 1994. She then accepted the position of assistant coach for women's basketball at Bentley College.

McInerney, who joined the College as of July 1, inherits a team that lost only one senior this past season. "I am thrilled to be coming back to Merrimack and excited about the opportunity," McInerney said. "We have a chance to be a pretty good team next year with some of the young talent we have coming back. I'm eager to get started right away."

NATIONAL AUGUSTINIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE HELD AT MERRIMACK

Sixty-five young adults from across the country gathered on the Merrimack campus for the National Augustinian Leadership Conference held July 2 -5. This first annual national conference followed last summer's International Youth Conference held in Germany. Those attending were from California, Oklahoma, Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New York, New Hampshire, and Oregon, and are in some way affiliated with the Augustinians through a college, high school or parish. Eight Merrimack students, including recent grads, were among the participants. On-campus coordinators were Fr. Joe Farrell, OSA and Sr. Elaine Polcari, SSND. According to Fr. Joe, the conference was designed to introduce young people to St. Augustine and to give them an opportunity to share their own faith experiences and their experience of being connected to an Augustinian school or parish. The weekend consisted of prayer, reflection, and socializing — including a trip into Boston to watch the 4th of July fireworks display over the Boston Harbor.

COMMUNITY CELEBRATES OPENING OF ROGERS CENTER FOR THE ARTS

Members of the Merrimack community came together on Friday afternoon, October 22, to get a first look at the new Rogers Center for the Arts. And the wait was worth it. Faculty, staff and students toured the building — from the new McCoy Art Gallery to the "Green Room" — and enjoyed refreshments. Visitors were highly impressed with the design of the building as well as the interior color scheme.

Later that evening, a champagne reception was held for those donors who purchased seats through the College's "Take A Seat" campaign, members of the Rogers Family Foundation, the builders and architects as well as local elected officials. The Harry Skoler Jazz band of Haverhill entertained guests as did a harpist who played just outside of the new McCoy Art Gallery, which currently features the works of Bert Yarborough. The evening was a wonderful success according to President Santagati.

The general public was invited to tour the building on Sunday afternoon, October 24. And the crowds came. The three-hour open house saw several hundred visitors with positive reviews coming from all those in attendance. There were also admission tours being held during the open house so many prospective Merrimack students had the opportunity to be part of the excitement. It's not too late to sponsor a seat at the Rogers Center. For more information including how seats can conveniently be sponsored using payroll deduction, call Dick Reming at ext. 5117.

Several undergraduate students, along with alumni from the classes of 97, 98 and 99, shared authorship.

Daniel O'Brien, Associate Professor, Electrical and Computer Engineering, attended the 1999 Frontiers in Education conference held in San Juan, Puerto Rico, November 10-13, 1999. Professor O'Brien was invited to present his paper "Animated Solutions Using Mathcad8 – Convolution and correlation Problems." The conference was sponsored by the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers.

Kevin Salemme, Director of Media Services, was invited to exhibit his collection of hand-colored photographs at the Galerie Focale in Nyon, Switzerland in the summer of 2001. The gallery, which is dedicated to photography only, has also exhibited work by known photographer Sebastiao Salgado. Kevin exhibited at this gallery in 1997 and at that time, sold more than half of his displayed photographs.

1999 YEARBOOK DEDICATED TO FR. JOE FARRELL

This year's issue of the Merrimackan yearbook is dedicated to Fr. Joseph Farrell, OSA, Director of Campus Ministry. He served as advisor to the 1999 Yearbook staff and it's because of his unwavering suppor and dedication that the Yearbook Committee had such an easy decision in selecting Fr. Joe.

"Fr. Joe has always been a source of guidance and support fo all members of the Yearbook staff, whether being present at weekly meetings, identifying people in pictures, or proofing pages before going to publication," said the Yearbook Committee.

A Message from the Management Editor

As I look back and think about the many hours of work that went into the production of the 2000 Merrimackan, I know that everyone will enjoy the final product. The 50th volume of the Merrimackan is something that the community of Merrimack College can view with pride and dignity, remembering all of the events and memories of the past year.

I wish to extend my congratulations to the Class of 2000, which brought the 50th Commencement ceremonies to Merrimack College. Each and every one of you should be proud of all of your accomplishments at Merrimack College. I know that in years to come, you will often look back at the many memories that Merrimack College has given you.

I would also like to congratulate the faculty and staff of Merrimack College. Each and every one of you has made a lasting impression in the minds of each student here at Merrimack. What you teach to students will stay firmly implanted in their minds as they go on life's journey.

As the Management Editor of the 50th volume of the Merrimackan, it was my pleasure to oversee the layout of the pages of the book as well as to answer any questions that the staff may have had about the production of the book. At the beginning of the year, I had, in my mind, certain expectations for this yearbook. I am proud to say that the dedication and support of this staff made it possible to surpass all of my expecations. Thank you!

To Cindy, Editor-in-Chief: Congratulations on a wonderful yearbook! Thank you for always being there to answer my many questions. I am looking forward to working with you on the 51st volume of the Merrimackan.

To Emily, Sports Editor: You are to be commended on your outstanding work. Thank you for working on the ENTIRE sports section. We could not have done this book without you.

To Kristen, Residents and Commuters Editor: Thank you for going around and taking pictures of the resident students and the sometimes hard to find commuter students. I really appreciate all of your work.

To Lauren, Clubs and Organizations Editor: Thank you for organizing all of the pictures and write-ups for the many clubs and organizations on campus. The yearbook would not be the same without this section.

To Sarah, Photography Editor: Thank you for taking many, many pictures for this yearbook. Your work will be viewed by the many who look at this yearbook.

To the Staff of the Merrimackan: Thank you for attending the many meetings that were held throughout the year and for working on the many pages of this book.

To Guy Garon, Jostens Representative: Thank you for always being there to answer my questions and the questions of the staff of the Merrimackan. We appreciate all that you do.

To Jim Greeley, Merrimackan Advisor: Thank you for your support, dedication, and guidance. You have always been there to help me out throughout this entire year, whether it pertained to the yearbook or to academics. You are always there to support and guide the entire staff. Thank you!

In closing, I sincerely hope that everyone enjoys the 50th volume of the Merrimackan. I am looking forward to another year and the production of the 51st volume.

Editor's Closing Remarks

As I write this message to you, it seems hard for me to believe that the 2000 yearbook is near completion. My involvement with The Merrimackan began back in April of 1998 when I finally gave in to Mike's months of asking me to join the staff. When I joined, I would have never expected to see myself in the position of Editor-In-Chief, but life is full of unexpected surprises and this is just one of many that I have truly enjoyed. Taking on the position of Editor to an organization has definitely had it ups and downs along the way. But when the ups outweigh the downs and a sea of photos turn into pages, then you begin to see the reason you took this challenge in a different light. My journey down the road towards becoming The Merrimackan Editor may have started off as a rocky one, having a staff of only two students and a faculty advisor. But as the days turned in to weeks and the weeks into months, a staff of very eager young freshman emerged ready to see what they could do to give the Merrimack College community a yearbook to remember. As the Editor, my goal to the organization this year was to turn the yearbook into a staff where everyone had a voice and everyone's ideas were heard. As for the Merrimack community, my objective was to kick off the millennium with an edition to remember while at the same time commemorating our fiftieth edition. With the help of Angela and Jim, I was able to accomplish my goal of making sure everyone had a voice. At the same time, with the help of the entire staff, I was able to accomplish my goal to the community. Being the editor of the yearbook has been a challenge I may not have seen myself doing when I joined the staff back in 1998. But when I look back on what I have been able to learn and oversee, it is an experience I would repeat in a heartbeat.

This yearbook is the result of innovative and new approaches that were developed, while at the same time keeping old ideas and traditions alive. Because although times have changed and editors have come and gone, each of us leaves our mark on the yearbook and this was how I wanted to leave my mark. This write-up would not be complete without thanking several key individuals who helped make this book possible and helped make my life easier. First, I need to thank the Faculty and Administration for all their help with gathering information and for taking the time to be photographed. To the class of 2000, thank you for your ideas, suggestion and time. Jim Greeley, thanks for all your ideas and support this year, but most of all thanks for believing in the yearbook and myself. You are the best advisor a group could ask for. Angela Kulesza, well it's done! Thanks for all your help this year; I could never have made it through the year without your help. Emily, Lauren, Sarah, Kristen, Katie, Johanna, Pam, Amanda, and Nick - thanks for all your help and enthusiasm; you made this yearbook possible. Guy Garon, thanks for all your time and patience this year. I know the questions may have seemed endless, but look what we have to show for it. Dianne, Kathy, Liz, Maryellen, and Sandy - thanks for all your help this year, especially when it came to finding much-needed photos. Mike, thanks for all your support and encouragement you have given, but most of all thanks for encouraging me to stick with it during the bad days. If it weren't for you, I would not be writing this message (which may have led to less stress this year – just kidding). Mom, Dad, and Michael - thanks for always believing in me and for all your support over the years. I hope everyone enjoys looking back on the first fifty years of the yearbook and looking ahead to what the future could bring. We made it through the first fifty volumes. Here is to another fifty volumes of Merrimackans. In closing, I just want to say I hope everyone enjoys this edition of The Merrimackan as much as I have enjoyed putting it together, and I hope to see you all next year as we begin the 2001 Merrimackan.
